The following preamble and resolutions were adopted by the meeting:

"I had rather be right than be President."—Clay.

Whereas, A crisis exists in our national affairs, brought about by the unserrapulous cucroachments of the Slave Oligarchy of the South, which seems determined to stop at nothing short of the sheelute courted of the General Government, which is to be disped so so to extend and perpetuate Slavery over Territory solumnly consecrated to Freedom by the Alissouri Compromise; and the said Compromise having been abrocated for this purpose; and the party faisely denominated Democratic being the aider and abector of this policy; and the nominee of that party laxing said that he has no will beyond, and is nothing but what the Cincinnett Platform makes him; and, whereas, the nominee of the Native-American party—judging from his speeches and acts, and the Platform of the Convention that nominated him—labs similar sentiments, or no sentiments at all; and, eleverar, sets, and the Placform of the Convention that nominated him-holds similar sentiments, or no sentiments at all; and, whereas, a pertion of the adherents of the White party have chosen him for their standard-boarer in the coming Presidential context, and, whereas, it becomes the duty of every free voter, in a trials like the present, to examine well the tendency of the vote le may give, so that he may give it with a clear and caliphe-ned conscience; now, therefore, be it Hesolved, By the Democratic Whites of the Ninth Ward, that we have carefully examined the claims of the several car-didates for the office of President of the United States, accord-ing to the several platforms adopted by them, and that we reconfize in the platform of the Republican candidate, the prin-tiples of rational liberty and the intent of the founders of our Government.

recognize in the platform of the Republican candidate, the principles of rational liberty and the intent of the founders of our Gevernment.

Resolved, That the atrocities committed in the Territory of Krissa upon the Free-State men, in order to subdue it to the belost of Slavery, are mainly chargeable to the Executive department of the General Gevernment, and are a disgrace to Freedom, to our country, and to the age in which we live.

Resolved, That we members of the old Whit party, and as admirts of the great and gallant Clay, we cannot offininte with a party which has for its candidate for Vice President the defamer of that great man while he lived.

Resolved, That we heartily disapprove of the principles promigated by the Ostend Conference; and that we will teach their author that honesty is the best policy for a nation, as well as for an individual; and that the bargain and corruption slander is not yet forgotten by the old Whisp of the Ninth Ward.

Resolved, That in John C. Fremont we recognize a man full equal to any emergency; and in William L. Dayton a tried and failting public servant; and that we will heartily give them our support in the coming Presidential context.

Resolved, That whe we still cherish the deepest feelings of attachment to the memory of the old Whig party and its gallant leaders who stood by it in victory and defeat, yet we cannot forget that our country has claims upon us above the ties of party or persental friendship; and it is, in our judgment, unbecoming a treman and patriot to adhere to a party or to men when such party or men have ceased to exits as a power to do good.

Resolved, That in coming to this determination we have been influenced solely by a dealer to serve our country, and that no feelings of a persennal nature have had the least influence in our decision. On motion, adjourned, subject to the call of the Excusive Committee.

CHARLES CRANE, Chairman. ASA BUTMAN.
H. HOWARD CARGILL, Secretaries.

Dana, jr. Theodore Parker, Gov. Gardner, Gen. Edmands, Mayor Smith, Hallett Freeman the Suttle family, &c. In an Appendix will be found official documents, letters, and other matter illustrative of the subject, together with a detailed account of the first slave case under the Constitution of 1780, in which the Supreme Court decided that Slavery no longer existed in Massachusetts.

Byles, the well-known Boston Correspondent of The New York Tribune, writes to that journal respecting the work as follows:

New York Tribune, writes to that journed and excellently as follows:

"It makes a small volume, beautifully printed and excellently got up in every respect. It is a model of succinct and incid marration, with no attempt to highten the effect of the facts by relation; and yet it is so managed as to six the blood as no mere art could.

"" I recommend this book to the attention of every one who wishes to know how a slaveholder can command the entire national, State and municipal power to catch and entry back his slave. It is a most instructive lesson, and cannot be studied too carefully."

THREE YEARS ON THE KANSAS BORDER. THREE YEARS ON THE KANSAS BORDER.

240 pages, 12mo. Price, paper covers, 50 cts.; cloth 75 cts.

"Turb is stranger than faction," and we thisk we never saw this adage better illustrated than in the experiences of "Three Years on the Kansas Border," which are here related by a clergrain of the Episcopal Church. He received the appointment of Masionary to Kansas about the time of the passage of the Kansas-Norbrash abil, and no sooner had be extered Missouri, on the border of the Territory, than his troubles and perils commenced. Curiosity was immediately alive to learn his position on the goose question; and when it was ascertained that he favored the admission of Kansas as a Free State, the whole host of Pro-Slavery harpies not the description of the state of the characteristic of the consection, and when the two saccretained that he favored the admission of Kansas as a Free State, the whole host of Pro-Slavery harpies are a living witness to the horrors of Horder-Ruffianism, and the desperale expedients of the Slave Power. Read "Three Years on the Kansas Border, all ye doubters of the great crime which has been perpetrated against Kansas, and then tell us whether it is not time that the people arose as one man to put down the enemies of free thought and free speech, and to preserve to our land those precious rights bequeathed to us by our fastners."

"We have read this beautiful Prose Poem (for it is nothing less), with delighted attention; and find it ordys necklace of pearly thoughts, pure from the heart-depths of the Poet. Mr. Aldrich is already a great favorite with thousands in whose heart is he autiful and cracetil poems have found an answering e. ho.

"Its satire is keen, but good-natured. It exposes with a skill-ful band some of the more detestable habits of that respectable society which is built up of wilgarity, meanness and pretension. The 'findge' families, one and all, would do well to buy, read pe noder and dispeasatic." "They are rich in touches of tender a minusur and delicate thought reminding the reader of like Marvel's Dream Land of many shadowy experiences, and unimorities of a higher and different life, that he and all of us have at sometime in our earthly plainingse. It is as postical as rythineal geoms of the same author, and to many an ear will have awester music that its most in measured verse."

"It is jurky with fun, and all there music that its most in measured verse."

"It is jurky with fun, and all there with wit and sarrasm, not of the upony style, but a quiet, sharp and genuine and we will only further hint that those who desire to get up a shewer of sunshine and four should get the work."

"This little book is more than it seems—more than it pretends. It is really a novel of pith, pathes and power. It is poetry in prose, the work of a genual and generous soul."
